Washington County is seeking applications to develop new transitional housing for households who face significant barriers to accessing and retaining permanent housing.

Offers up to $30,000,000 in capital funding from Metro Supportive Housing Services Funds for the acquisition, rehabilitation, conversion and/or construction of transitional housing units.

Proposed projects must include a minimum of 20 new beds, beds cannot be existing temporary housing capacity (i.e. shelter, existing transitional housing).

Transitional Housing definition: Time-limited housing with supportive services to provide households experiencing homelessness with interim stability and support to successfully move to and maintain permanent housing. Transitional housing programs cover housing costs and accompanying supportive services for program participants for a specific period, typically up to 24 months.

Transitional Housing Eligible Models NOFO will support:

Recovery-oriented transitional housing programs provide an alcohol and drug free living environment for participants in active recovery (e.g. exiting in-patient treatment or engaged in outpatient treatment) who are seeking a recovery housing environment.

Stabilization transitional housing programs utilizes a harm reduction approach for participants not in active recovery with unaddressed mental health and/or substance use disorder conditions.
