Washington County Sheriffs Office

Lucy - Shared new Call-for-Service incident map. Shows broader view, demonstrates incident density. She shared 6 month data from January 2024 through June 2024.

Shows all of the beats that are included in CPO 3. It doesn't identify though the types of crime by block (as the old maps did), but does give a better visual of density of total calls, with plans for more specific data by area on future maps. Provided table of differing service call types though which was helpful.

Deputy Nordstrom- The new categorization of the call types more closely matches the vernacular and specific call type used by the officers. Sometimes though there is crossover in the types of call.

Mr. Houseman asked about how mental health calls were distinguished, and ask to clarify how these might be tracked, Mr. Skinner also followed up with a question about whether or not there was a mental health response team, and Lucy replied yes, we have a response team that partners with officers, coverage 7 days per week, but not 24 hrs/day.

TVFD

Peter- representing Station 53. Wants everyone to be aware of increased wildfire risk. Station 53 has a Car Response Program that allows a single TVFD provider to check on the high-volume medical utilizers. This is a more efficient and cost effective way of responding without tying up a fire truck.

TVWD

Lindsay Wochnick - We're providing 30 million gallons of water per day to TVWD customers. They've revamped their website, www.tvwd.org

Multiple water infrastructure construction continues, first with the Taylor Ferry Water Storage project, replacing old reservoirs with two new ones, starting in October 2024. Funding provided by FEMA grants.

Florence Ln Reservoir roof-coating project continues.

Projects on Oak St., and Pfaffle St starting in 2025.

David Marciniak- Spoke to the Willamette Water Supply program – Scholls Ferry work has nearly completed. Pressure Flow Control /Pump distribution house at Oleson and Hall Blvd is in final testing and will soon be operational next week. Work on Allen has stalled, waiting final paving but requires agreement on paving this with City of Beaverton. Final paving on Allen Blvd should hopefully begin by middle of October. Mr. Marcotte asked if the lane reductions could be removed, but Mr. Marciniak stated this road was too rough still to remove those cones.

Portland General Electric:

Brooke Brownlee, Senior Manager of Community Engagement from PGE reviewed details around the underground power line replacement in the area of SW 84th Ave and Bohman Pkwy. Replacing aging and outdated power cables that have deteriorated. They are currently in the 3rd phase of this project and hopefully will be done by end of September. It involves approximately 30 homes in this neighborhood.

Existing Citizen Interest Action update:

Fanno Creek Nature Trail and Portland Golf Club: PGC has their 4th application submission to Division of State Lands, intending to dredge their large irrigation pond in the center of the property and dump the tailings on the land bordering the Fanno Creek Nature Trail between SW 86th Ave and SW 81st Ave, potentially compromising a designated wetlands, and also bordering Fanno Creek proper, less than 100 yds to the west of the planned dump site.

Action on the application by DSL is pending.
